CONTEMPORARY ICELANDIC ART REFLECTS ON SUSTAINABILITY IN EXHIBITION OPENING AT SCANDINAVIA HOUSE OCTOBER 2016

ADVANCE FACT SHEET

WHAT

Borrowed Time: Icelandic Artists Look Forward presents the work of contemporary Icelandic artists currently engaged in the global dialogue on sustainability and the ethical issues—environmental, economic, cultural, and social—that surround it. Featuring photography, video, collage, and installation, the exhibition invites viewers to challenge their assumptions and explore new modes of seeing. The exhibition will be on view from October 15, 2016 through January 14, 2017 at Scandinavia House in New York City.

WHEN

Saturday, October 15, 2016 through Saturday, January 14, 2017

WHERE

Scandinavia House: The Nordic Center in America
58 Park Avenue, New York City

OVERVIEW

Comprising video, collage, photographic, installation, Borrowed Time features the artwork of over a dozen contemporary Icelandic artists and artist groups/partnerships working in video, collage, photography, and installation, including Hildur Bjarnadóttir, Kristín Bogadóttir, Bjarki Bragason, Libia Castro & Ólafur Ólafsson, The Icelandic Love Corporation, Rósa Gisladóttir, Ásthildur B. Jónsdóttir, Anna Líndal, Ölöf Nordal, Þorgerður Ólafsdóttir, Hrafnkell Sigurðsson, and Bryndís Snæbjörnsdóttir & Mark Wilson, among others.

CURATORIAL CREDIT

Borrowed Time is curated by Ásthildur B. Jónsdóttir and originally presented at Listasafn Árnesinga/LÁ Art Museum, Hveragerði. Ásthildur B. Jónsdóttir (b. 1970) is an assistant professor in the Faculty of Art Education at the Iceland Academy of the Arts. She is currently pursuing her PhD at the University of Iceland and University of Lapland Rovaniemi, focusing on the potential of contemporary art sustainability-related educational curricula. Jónsdóttir holds an MA from New York University, The Steinhardt School of Culture, Education, and Human Development, and a Masters of Education from the University of Iceland.

PUBLICATION

The exhibition is accompanied by a 50-page illustrated catalogue, featuring an essay by curator and featured artist Ásthildur B. Jónsdóttir (in both English and Icelandic).
The American-Scandinavian Foundation (ASF) promotes firsthand exchange of intellectual and creative influence between the United States and the Nordic countries: Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, and Sweden. A publicly supported American nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization, ASF has an extensive program of fellowships, grants, intern/trainee sponsorship, publishing, and cultural activities. Headquartered in New York City, ASF has members throughout the United States, and alumni and donors worldwide. For more information: amscan.org

Scandinavia House was created by the American-Scandinavian Foundation to promote the artistic and intellectual influence of the Nordic countries. As the leading center for Nordic culture in the United States, Scandinavia House offers enriching programs that illustrate and illuminate the culture and life of the Nordic countries. The diverse programs include exhibitions, film series, concerts and other performances, readings, lectures, language courses, and activities for kids and families. For more information: scandinaviahouse.org | Facebook | Twitter and Instagram @ScanHouse | #BorrowedTime

Funded by the eight municipalities that comprise the southern Icelandic county of Árnesýssla, Listasafn Árnesinga/LÁ Art Museum offers a year-round program of exhibitions featuring the work of both local and international artists.

The Scandinavia House Gallery is open Tuesday through Saturday, 12 – 6 PM (Wednesday until 7 PM). Admission is free.

###

To request visual materials and further press information, please contact:
Lauren Stackpoole, Communications & Outreach Manager, American-Scandinavian Foundation:
212-847-9727 or lauren@amscan.org

Ariana Tiziani, Manager of Exhibitions and Public Programs, American-Scandinavian Foundation:
212-847-9734 or ariana@amscan.org